This handbook is separated into two parts:

- Part One contains information on how to meet renewal requirements for CTS certified individuals wishing to renew and maintain their certification status. Renewal candidates must strictly observe all policies and procedures in this handbook.
- Part Two contains Appendices.

Purpose of Renewal

The InfoComm Board of Directors established an independent InfoComm Certification Committee (referred to as “the InfoComm Certification Committee”) that is responsible for providing oversight to the development and administration of credible Certified Technology Specialist™ certifications (CTS®, CTS-D®, and CTS-I®). This is to ensure the credentials meet high standards of ethical and professional practice for the audiovisual industry and is to assure the proficiency and competency of AV professionals.

Continuing education is an important component in demonstrating a personal and public commitment to maintaining competency within a professional certification program. The InfoComm Certification Committee renewal program for the CTS certification program is designed to reflect that commitment as well as in meeting the ISO/IEC/17024:2012 accreditation requirements as administered in the United States by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI). All levels of CTS certifications are awarded for a period of three years. Certificants who wish to maintain their CTS, CTS-D and/or CTS-I designations must meet the renewal requirements of the InfoComm Certification Committee in order to maintain their certification(s).

The renewal process is designed to provide certified audiovisual specialists with the opportunity to demonstrate their ongoing efforts to enhance the knowledge, skills and abilities required to perform their jobs in the field. The program has been designed to facilitate continued competence through participation in a variety of learning experiences, each of which may be linked to the current competency requirements of the certification examinations. Continuing to uphold and abide by the CTS Code of Ethics is also a requirement for maintaining and renewing certification.

The awarding of renewal units by the InfoComm Certification Committee does not mean that the Certification Committee endorses, accredits, approves, or sanctions any particular course. Renewal units awarded are based upon documented guidelines and supporting materials provided during the application process.

PART ONE:

Requirements and Guidelines for the Renewal of Any CTS Certification Level

A. Summary of Individual Renewal Guidelines

Certified individuals applying for renewal at any CTS level:

- Must have completed thirty approved (30) renewal units (RUs) within the three-year certification period. (Note: each specialty level of certification over the basic CTS level must be renewed separately, however the general CTS does not have to be renewed if the individual maintains a higher specialty level of certification (CTS-D or CTS-I).
- Must sign and agree to continue to abide by and uphold the CTS Code of Ethics and Conduct (included in the renewal application).
- Must agree to continue to use any CTS designation in an authorized and appropriate manner. Only those individuals who maintain their CTS certification requirements may continue to use the CTS designation.

The InfoComm Certification Office will send email renewal reminders at intervals of 1 year, 6 months, 3 months and 1 month prior to the certificant's renewal expiration date. It is important for certificant's to maintain current contact information with the Certification Office; however, it is ultimately the responsibility of the individual to maintain renewal requirements.

Note: Multiple specialty credentials are renewed at the rate of 15 RUs each (see examples below).

All levels of CTS certified individuals have the option to renew by taking the current certification exam corresponding to their existing renewal credential(s) instead of through the RU process. Those who fail the exam must retake and pass the exam using the current retake policies prior to the renewal deadline. Once the "renew by testing" option is chosen, the certified individual must continue to renew through retesting, and adequate time should be planned for this.

Certificants must either renew through the RU renewal process or optional retesting as of their scheduled renewal date in order to maintain their certification status. (Note: There is a process available for requesting an extension of renewal for a period up to 120 days)

An individual certified at only the general CTS level may not apply for renewal at any time prior to 6 months before the scheduled renewal date.

Each certified individual is responsible for maintaining their own record of the number of hours of continuing education that have been accrued during the 3-year renewal cycle, including dates and supporting documentation. InfoComm provides an online transcript of InfoComm registered courses only renewal units earned by certificants at www.infocomm.org/renewal, which can be printed as documentation for those courses completed. For other courses, individuals will need to maintain and submit a copy of the course completion certificate along with the renewal application.

NOTE: Applicants and stakeholders should download the most up-to-date free edition of the CTS Candidate Handbook that may include important policy and procedure updates by going to the InfoComm website at www.infocomm.org.
©2017 InfoComm International®

Annual reporting of RUs earned to InfoComm is not required or suggested. The individual is responsible for maintaining the required documentation to be submitted at the time of renewal.

A listing of courses and opportunities pre-approved through the Certification Committee for RUs are posted and regularly updated online at www.infocomm.org/certification under Renewal.

Only those certificants in good standing (no active sanctions and renewal accomplished within timeline) with the Certification Committee will remain listed in the online Directory of Certified CTS AV Specialists.

B. Earning Renewal Units (RUs)

Courses and other renewal unit activities are reviewed and RUs granted at the discretion of the Certification Committee based upon the requirements and guidelines contained within this Renewal Handbook.

All renewal units applied for and awarded must be referenced to specific certification levels and the corresponding Exam Content Outline Domain area (see Appendix A for CTS, Appendix B for CTS-I). (Ex. Course ABC is approved for 2 RUs at the CTS-I Domain B level.)

Renewal units may be awarded for the following activities at the designated rates

Note: See specific listings of pre-approved renewal units online at www.infocomm.org/certification under Renewal. You may want to refer to the chart of Renewal Unit.

1. Courses approved for more than one specialty certification level may only be used for renewal at one of the levels (i.e., Course XYZ is approved for 2 RUs at the CTS-D or CTS-I level – the 2 RUs can only be used for renewing either the CTS-D or the CTS-I, not both. You will be able to split the RUs, for instance, course XYZ is approved for 2 RUs at the CTS-D and CTS-I, you can use 1 RU for each domain area).
2. Non-Manufacturer programs may be approved for 1 RU per each hour of class time. The same course may only be used only once every 24 months for the purpose of submitting renewal units.
3. Manufacturer programs may be approved for 1 RU per each two hours of class time. The same course may be used only once every 24 months for the purpose of submitting renewal units.
4. Approved college level courses of 3-4 semester hours may be awarded up to 10 RUs. Such courses must be obtained from an accredited institution and courses must relate specifically to the work of the appropriate CTS certified technician level being renewed and must directly enhance the knowledge or skill level of the certificant for the certification being renewed.
5. Instructors who are teaching for InfoComm or other programs approved for renewal units by the Certification Committee may receive up to 1 RU for each contact hour taught, and allowance for instructor preparation time of 1 RU for every 2 hours of contact time taught. RUs awarded for teaching a course can be counted only once for the same presentation every 6 months. For example, if a program being taught is approved for a total of three RUs (two RUs for the course contact hours and one RU for the preparation) and is presented at three regional meetings during the same 6-month period, the presenter may only count three RUs towards renewal in that 6-month period.

NOTE: Applicants and stakeholders should download the most up-to-date free edition of the CTS Candidate Handbook that may include important policy and procedure updates by going to the InfoComm website at www.infocomm.org.

6. Individuals who actively serve as InfoComm volunteers in a capacity that contributes to further development of the InfoComm Certification Committee certification program may claim up to a maximum of 3 RUs per year for their contributions for each volunteer capacity actively served in. Examples of recognized certification program support activities would include active participation as a subject matter expert, serving on a certification related committee, industry standards committee, InfoComm Board or committee, or similar activities recognized by the Renewal Committee for consideration of renewal units. InfoComm volunteer committees, boards, or special interest groups (SIGs) should contact the certification office to request a review and approval of their group's activities for renewal units. Certificants who submit RUs under this category are subject to verification of active participation through InfoComm records. The individual must document on the renewal application their participation and identify the areas in which they have made a significant contribution to the certification program. (See chart page 7)
7. Individuals who write an article or white paper related to an area addressed in one of the CTS Exam Content Outlines and the article or white paper is published in an AV trade media or industry related technical book may be awarded 2 RUs. RUs from articles or white papers are limited to three per year, for a total of 6 RUs per 12 months. Articles or white papers must be written and submitted for review within the 3-year certification period. (See chart page 7)
8. Reading an industry related book that has been previously submitted and pre-approved for RUs which includes successful completion of an appropriate assessment tool such as a quiz (the link to the sponsoring organization or author will be listed on the approved Renewal Units page on the www.infocomm.org/certification website). Renewal Units awarded will depend upon the size/time requirements related to the particular book but will not exceed 2 RUs per book with a maximum of three books per year. (See chart page 7)

C. Renewal Deadlines

CTS certifications have a renewal date of 3 years from the date of original certification or most recent renewal date with the exception of multiple specialty certifications. (See examples below for multiple specialty certifications). General CTS certified individuals may not apply for renewal at any time prior to 6 months before their scheduled renewal date; however, the renewal must be completed as of the required renewal date in order to maintain certification status.

D. Renewal Units Required

There are 30 renewal units required within each 3-year certification period (exception being multiple specialty credentials- see examples below). The 30 RUs may be obtained through a variety of training and educational methods as detailed in the preceding section. The renewal units applied to a renewal must be earned during the renewal period itself. Renewal units must be from categories as detailed within the Renewal Unit Option Chart (see page 6)

E. Renewal Testing Option

An individual certified at any level of CTS may elect to renew by taking their certification level current exam(s) instead of through RUs. Those who fail the exam must retake the exam and pass using the current retake policies. Renewal through retesting or through RUs must occur by the scheduled renewal date in order to maintain certification status. Those choosing this option should consider adequate time for scheduling exam appointment and possible retesting prior to renewal date. Once a certificant chooses to renew by testing, s/he must complete the renewal by retesting, as may be required.

F. Renewal Fees

The renewal fee, payable by check or credit card, is $130.00 (USD) for the general CTS. There is a separate renewal fee of $130.00 (USD) and application documentation required for each specialty certification level renewed. If the individual chooses the option of renewal by taking the current level exam instead of by renewal units, the current exam fee will apply. See examples below. The Renewal Application Fee is payable by credit card or by check as found on the application form.

G. Multiple Certification Level Renewals

- Each specialty level over the General CTS requires a separate renewal in order to maintain certification. For example, an individual certified as a CTS-D and CTS-I must renew in both categories to maintain their respective certifications. (See below for multiple specialty certifications chart).
- An individual who holds the general CTS, and the CTS-D or CTS-I is required to renew their certification at the specialty level only by earning a total of 30 RUs for which a minimum of 15 RUs are at the specialty level, with the remaining RUs at the general CTS level.
- Individuals who should elect to not renew their specialty certification(s) must renew the general CTS certification (with the 30 RUs) in order to remain certified as a general CTS.

- Individuals holding more than one specialty credential are required to submit 15 RUs per specialty area for renewal. The RUs must relate to the content of the specialty credential per the examination content outline as found in Appendix A or Appendix B of the Renewal Handbook and may not “cross over”. (See next bullet)
- When one course meets the RU requirements of multiple designations, certificants may apply the course renewal units once toward only one designation. For example: Course XYZ is approved for 2 RUs for CTS-I- Domain 2 and/or 2 RUs for CTS-D- Domain 1 certified individuals. The individual certified both in CTS-I and CTS-D can only claim 2 RUs for that course and apply them to renewal of either the CTS-I or the CTS-D, not both.

Multiple Specialty Credential Renewals Chart

When an individual already holds one valid specialty credential level (CTS-D or CTS-I) then earns a second specialty credential, the original specialty level’s renewal date changes to the same renewal date of the newly obtained specialty credential. In the future, both specialty certifications held would then have the same renewal date but each will incur its own renewal fee.

Example:

CTS-I is earned in June 2011, with an expiration date of June 2014, the additional CTS-D is earned in August of 2012 with a renewal date of August 2015. The previously earned CTS-I will have its expiration date automatically updated to August 2015, so both the CTS-D and CTS-I will have the same expiration date from then on. At the time of renewal in August 2015, each credential will need to be renewed with 15 RUs approved for that certification level, for a total of 30 RUs, and a separate renewal fee for each.

Certified Level(s)	Renewal Date	Renewal Units (RUs) Required	Fee
CTS	3 years from original date of certification	30 RUs from any combination of CTS, CTS-D, or CTS-I approved RUs	$130.00 (USD)
CTS & CTS-D	Renew CTS-D only 3 years from original date of specialty certification (CTS is automatically renewed when CTS-D is renewed)	30 RUs total with a minimum of 15 RUs approved for the CTS-D level and the remaining RUs from any combination of CTS, CTS-D, or CTS-I approved RUs	$130.00 (USD)
CTS & CTS-I	Renew CTS-I only 3 years from original date of specialty certification (CTS is automatically renewed when CTS-I is renewed)	30 RUs total with a minimum of 15 RUs approved for the CTS-I level and the remaining RUs from any combination of CTS, CTS-D, or CTS-I approved RUs	$130.00 (USD)
CTS-D & CTS-I	Original credential has renewal date changed to the same renewal date of the new specialty credential. In the future, both specialty credentials will need to be renewed on the same date	Renew both the CTS-D and CTS-I using 15 RUs approved for each certification level (30 total). Requires separate renewal fee for each.	$260.00 (USD) ($130.00 USD per specialty credential renewal)

*Based on current Exam Content Outlines as found online at www.infocomm.org/certification.

Note: Renewal Units submitted on the Renewal Application must be from categories as detailed within the Renewal Unit Option Chart

H. Individual Renewal Application

The renewal application for any individual CTS level certification is found in this renewal handbook and online at www.infocomm.org/renewal. Applications, along with any required supporting documentation and current fee of $130.00 per certification level being renewed, should be submitted to the following address by mail, email or by fax:

InfoComm International
Certification Office
11242 Waples Mill Road, Ste 200
Fairfax, VA 22030
fax +1.703.991.8259
certification@infocomm.org

The Renewal Application Fee is payable by credit card or check as found on the application form. The work experience is documented by signature of the applicant (also see Auditing below). Renewal units are documented by completing the dates, locations on the application form as well as all required documentation of courses completed or other information required as noted on the application form. InfoComm provides an online transcript of InfoComm sponsored course renewal units earned by a certificant at www.infocomm.org/renewal.

I. Auditing

Certification Committee guidelines require random auditing of 5% (1 of each 20 received) of all renewal applications received for the CTS program. Audits will be performed by certification staff on behalf of the Certification Committee. Renewal applications found through an audit to be incomplete will require the individual to provide any required incomplete documentation within 30 days of notice from the Certification Office. After 30 days, if the individual has not provided complete information the certification will be suspended. If an individual is suspected of fraudulently filing misinformation, the case will be referred to the CTS Ethics and Disciplinary Committee for review and resolution, which may include sanctions.

J. Appeals

Requests for an appeal in the case of a denied renewal must be made to the Certification Office no later than 30 days after the notification to the applicant of denied renewal. Appeals are reviewed by the Director of Certification to determine if the appeal is a valid appeal. Should the appeal be found invalid, the Director of Certification shall notify the candidate of the reason(s) the appeal is not valid. The Director of Certification shall also notify the candidate if additional information is needed, or if the appeal is being forwarded to the Renewal Committee for review.

Within 60 days of the receipt of the written appeal, the Renewal Committee must conclude its deliberations.

Decisions of the Renewal Committee can be appealed to the Appeals Committee. Requests for appeal to the Appeals Committee must be made no later than 30 days after the Renewal Committee decision.

Within 60 days of the receipt of the written appeal, the Appeals Committee must conclude its deliberations. All decisions of the Appeals Committee are final.

K. Extensions Due to Extenuating Circumstances

In cases where Certificants, due to extenuating circumstances, cannot obtain the required renewal units by the required renewal date, a request for an extension should be sent in writing to the Director of Certification. The policy for granting an extension allows for the Director of Certification to grant up to a 120 day extension of the renewal requirements when:

- The extension request is in writing and is based upon extenuating circumstances
- The extension request includes a written plan as to how the individual will obtain the missing renewal units within no more than a 120-day extension period

When the renewal requirements are met during the extension period, the date of next renewal will continue to be the original date of renewal. Extenuating circumstances would include such conditions as active military duty, extended illness, or limited availability of renewal units in a particular area.

Note: Those choosing this option should allow adequate time for scheduling exam appointment and possible retesting prior to renewal date.

L. Agreement to the CTS Code of Ethics and Conduct

Agreement to abide by and uphold the CTS Code of Ethics and Conduct is required as a part of the Renewal Application.

M. The Value of Renewal

The current renewal fee is $130.00 (USD) every three years per required certification renewal level. This equates to less than $44.00 a year. The renewal program has many benefits to the individual, including but not limited to:

- Maintaining an ISO/IEC 17024:2012 international standard accredited credential through ANSI
- Providing an online searchable registry of those certified at any CTS level
- Actively pursuing those who would falsify the use of the credential
- Investigating and sanctioning those certified who are found to have violated the CTS Code of Ethics and Conduct
- Promoting and educating a wide variety of stakeholders to the benefits of holding the various CTS level credentials
- Providing ongoing extensive marketing efforts of the credential on an international basis
- Providing an individual a transcript of courses and renewal units (RUs) obtained through InfoComm sponsored training
- Maintaining an internationally recognized and respected credential that meets the highest professional standards
